

D. NACE LISTED CHIMNEY ENGINEERS

The National Association of Chimney Engineers is a registration scheme for companies involved in the construction, lining and repair of chimneys. The objective of the scheme is to provide a register of specialist contractors to ensure the general public requiring work to be carried out on a chimney or flue can be put in touch with a company competent to carry out the works.

Companies applying for membership are inspected whilst carrying out the types of work for which they wish to become registered and have to satisfy the NACE inspector that a level of knowledge on the subject and the regulations has been obtained and that they are competent to carry out this work. HETAS Ltd. independently assesses and supervises this NACE Scheme.

Companies are registered in any of the following categories of work:

- a) The installation of cast in situ pumped perlite chimney lining.
- b) The installation of stainless steel linings suitable for gas, oil, and solid fuel.
- c) The lining and construction of chimneys using rigid sectional liners.
- d) The construction of prefabricated chimney systems.

The following provides a list of companies registered as members of NACE for 2007, (HETAS information list updated to date given below), together with the categories for which they are registered. A list of Associate members of NACE from within the chimney product industry is also given. These associate companies do not meet the HETAS/NACE scheme requirements for registration.

For information on the members please contact NACE at the following address:
